Average Ranking

Ranking questions calculate the average ranking for each answer choice so you can determine which answer choice was most preferred overall. The answer choice with the largest average ranking is the most preferred choice.

The average ranking is calculated as follows, where:

\[ w = \text{weight of ranked position} \]
\[ x = \text{response count for answer choice} \]

\frac{x_1 w_1 + x_2 w_2 + x_3 w_3 + \ldots + x_n w_n}{\text{Total response count}}

Weights are applied in reverse. In other words, the respondent’s most preferred choice (which they rank as #1) has the largest weight, and their least preferred choice (which they rank in the last position) has a weight of 1. You can’t change the default weights.

For example, if a Ranking question has 5 answer choices, weights are assigned as follows:

- The #1 choice has a weight of 5
- The #2 choice has a weight of 4
- The #3 choice has a weight of 3
- The #4 choice has a weight of 2
- The #5 choice has a weight of 1

We apply weights in this way to ensure that when the data is presented on a chart, it’s clear which answer choice is most preferred.

30 Scary
31 Interesting to look at. Doesn’t seem like lots of room for play, especially with trying to distance during a pandemic
32 Not accessible
33 Cool looking but not much to do overall
34 It looks really fun to climb on, but it’s also pretty small 35 It looks too big.
36 While it is creative, I am concerned if it will provide enough space for multiple kids to be on it.
37 Modern with lots of climbing
38 Cute
39 It’s really fun looking that would probably draw kids in 40 Fun for little kids
41 Fun, unique
42 Very unique and fits in with the nature area around the park
43 It’s ok
44 Fun looking and nature inspired which I think is a value of Urbana
45 I like the uniqueness but question the practicality and it’s safety.
46 Adorable
47 Not as much imaginative play options.
48 It seems a bit over decorated for the amount it can be utilized (takes up space without providing interactive experiences)
49 Colorful and creative
50 Gaudy
51 Pretty abstract
52 High features lots of falling chances as well as inability to see backside easily.
53 I like the animal motif
54 Fun and colorful
55 Very unique and great for climbing. Kids love animals, the the owl is added fun!
56 Unique structure for climbing and ties in with nature at meadowbrook
57 Honestly I could see young toddler being scared of an overly large bird.
58 It is unlike any other playgrounds in the CU area. I think we need to do something unique and not like other parks here.
59 I like it
60 Too busy and complicated, not enough active play
61 Seems small and not for younger children
62 Would like to know if the material is sustainable, recycled, etc. Looks to have lots of activity options and good climbing
63 I LIKE THE HEIGHT AND ASEPHTIC DESIGN OF AN OWL
64 Keep, refurbish or replace the original wood structures. That is what makes this park so unique. Plastic equipment can be found all over CU. Tons of man power was donated to make this the best play ground in the area. People drive from out of town to visit this park.

101 Looks like a fun welcoming structure. Owls associated with learning too, which is a plus.  12/10/2021 1:10 PM

104 Cool design, but might get boring fast for kids.  12/9/2021 2:47 PM
105 Love the attention grabbing shape!  12/9/2021 1:04 PM
106 Not accessible  12/9/2021 11:40 AM
107 I liked that it’s different. Kids love to explore things in different ways.  12/8/2021 8:07 PM
108 It looks interesting and creative! However I know personally and many others have communicated that we really love the classic, wooden playground currently at Meadowbrook. If it has to be updated for accessibility or safety, I strongly prefer that style. We literally drive 30 min one way to go to that park, going past many perfectly lovely parks that are all similar.  12/8/2021 4:19 PM
109 Bright colorful(colors - yellow, orange, cyan), a playground mixed into a waterpark  12/8/2021 4:18 PM
110 I think that all the wood could give someone a splinter but I like how it looks  12/8/2021 4:14 PM
111 I like the slides and all the other stuff.  12/8/2021 4:11 PM

113 It looks fun but kinda scary at the same time  12/8/2021 4:06 PM
114 I tried to do the ones that were most fun to be but also can hold a variety of people  12/8/2021 4:08 PM

124 Not big enough or enough variation  12/8/2021 2:01 AM
125 If the colors can be changed to a natural scape color and wood look that could be an option.  12/7/2021 11:16 PM
126 Design is cute and it seems great to climb all over but I question some of the usable climbing spots  12/7/2021 6:34 PM
127 Inviting but limited  12/7/2021 5:23 PM
128 Very interesting structure, but would like to see more options for additional equipment that matches this style.  12/7/2021 4:59 PM
129 It is nothing else like we have in Champaign, Urbana. My kids age 2-9 would love this.  12/7/2021 3:47 PM
130 It seems to be a standalone structure. Not sure how it would fit in with the rest of the playground equipment.  12/7/2021 12:35 PM
131 Not made for little kids  12/7/2021 12:29 PM

172 Hard to tell what all one could do with it, but it looks like it provides plenty of place for kids. to find some space from the others. Plus novelty will be important in first several years and then, again, two generations latter. 12/6/2021 2:48 AM
173 Different, cute, safe 12/5/2021 10:46 PM
174 It's very cute but I feel like it's more of an art piece than a playable piece 12/5/2021 10:19 PM

<td>I like the variety of interactions such as hiding underneath or climbing. However, it is very limited to how kids can interact with it beyond just running around it. Yes, all kids run through playgrounds but that involves creating separate spaces and imaginations. Objects like these can only be run around, or circumnavigated. Occasionally, climbed. That will become boring for them incredibly quickly.</td>

<td>It's difficult to see all of these tiny photos, #1. Secondly, there should be a photo, description of the activities, a video, and a listing of which age group it is for. The previous questions lacked so much information. One can't make a proper answer without knowing fully, the forementioned. What might be safe for an older child, may not be safe for another. What may look aesthetically pleasing, may not serve as the best option, and vice versa. Plus, this survey isn't suitable for phones! It is difficult to select an answer by touch. As I make a selection, other numbers pop up and seem to assume position in the answer box, when I didn't select them. Completing this survey has been frustrating due to all of these reasons. Also, the existing park is absolutely awesome! Are you planning to keep it and maintain it, only adding new features, or are you planning for demolition and these items in it's place? Knowing that will effect how people answer.</td>

361 It seems very crowded--as in compact together. Not so many kids can be on it and limited things to do without being on top of another kid. I really like the whimsey. It seems attractive to kids, just not sure it will last once they get there. 12/3/2021 9:11 PM

368 It looks nice, but there might not be enough to actually do on it? 12/3/2021 6:38 PM
I like this, but only if it is in addition to a main playground.

Not many choices

Cute. But is it challenging and engaging? I can't tell.

I like that it's artistic and iconic but also a multifunctional play space

Not enough visibility. Need to be able to see my kid more easily.

Looks a little crowded and hard for caregivers to monitor.

large sculptural pieces have the right scale for the landscape.

My climber would have really liked this, but my more-down-on-the-ground kid isn't interested in it at all.

It's bright and inviting, with lots of activities available. Combines art, nature, and play in a fun, inviting way.

Multiple things for children of all ages to enjoy.

This is quite unique and I think my child would like playing on it.

Doesn't seem like much to do. As there is no space for general comments, I would like to add that all photos are taken during pleasant weather, which is rarely the case around here. How about some options for outdoor play when it's really hot, drizzling, or even cold? Please consider planning for the local climate and all its ups and downs.

It doesn't look like they're much to do.

Looks dangerous

Whimsical!

We clearly need a goose instead of an owl.

I really like this one!

Fun and imaginative

It looks super cute, creative and natural. I like the climbing handles.

It looks cool, but I'm not sure I understand how the kids use it.

Can't really assess without seeing the back side.

very colorful

It does not have any stimulating play moves

I like the concept, but the execution is a frightening and would likely stop my toddler from approaching the playground.

Looks like a fun climbing piece.

Really cool piece. Might integrate well with sculpture on the grounds, or may visual overwhelm the space.

fun, fits with sculpture at Meadowbrook

I love the idea of featuring nature and/or animals!

It looks neat, but there is a lot of decorative space, vs. play space - kids can't climb on the whole front of the owl, I assume. Also the owl is a symbol of bad luck in some cultures

Looks good, not sure if it will be used by kids

love the natural feel to it, animal is fun, would be great for any animal structures to be native animals to central IL

Seems too static. Not enough room for as many children that will be in the playground

The front of the structure seems to lack play features. It looks cute, but on the front, other than what looks to be steps for a climbing wall, the play opportunities are few.

67. Looks like a lot to do.
68. I like the natural component of this playground
69. rocks
70. I like the nature theme and different options
71. It's fun but similar to other playgrounds in town
72. It's really big and that's what kids are going to want.
73. Climbing
74. New and interesting
75. I like that it has some natural elements to it.
76. Love it. Will blend well with the area
77. I like the color and structure. It has parts that are challenging to climb and easy to climb.
78. Lots of varying levels
79. Rock surfaces are not friendly in all types of weather. Especially for differently abled children.
80. Good climbing rocks
81. Is the green tube a slide? Will it be a problem if children are climbing on the outside of the slide while others go down?
82. The nature scape aspect of the playground is a nice change compared to the typical all metal or all wooden.
83. More traditional. Still nice.
84. I like the natural looking climbing surfaces
85. I like the natural features mixed with plastic.
86. Lots of difference textures and heights
87. Eh
88. Love the woodsy feel
89. I like this, but there is equipment like this at other parks. I think it would be great if Meadowbrook had something other parks couldn't offer.
90. My kids love this one!
91. Great looking rocks for climbing! Neat fort!
92. like the natural look classic playground
93. We like the feel of this. Seems similar in scale and maturity to what we have at meadowbrook. I like the 'nature' theme.
94. It's OK. Strange mix of aesthetics
95. I like the tall slide and climbing
96. I don't like fake rock or wood. the segments don't look like they go together.
97. Think it is great!
98. I like the colors + wood mixed
99. I think it's okay; nothing new
100. Like the natural rock climbing and the other more traditional climbing on the right. Gives kids the opportunity to challenge themselves
101. I like the rocks and wooden structures.
102. love the incorporation of natural elements
103. Looks like a good place to hide and climb
104. I like the natural colors, but this is pretty standard.
105. overall it looks interesting. I know that for some reason, my kids and their friends don't like the tunnel-slides.
106. It's nice it just could be more exciting
107. I like that it is very big
108. 1.the swings is the best.2.I love the tunnel slides.3 and I love the tire swings
109. I like the jungle theme and the slide
110. it looks really fun
111. It look boring
112. It is big and has a lot of room
113. It's looks fun for kids
114. it looks really fun
115. It looks fun
116. I loved this jungle gym because it looks modern
117. It's like a normal playground
118. Outdoors bowling
119. Hi
120. Needs more to do
121. If the colors can be changed to a natural scape color and wood look that could be an option.
122. Multiple levels are fun, towers are cool. Is that meant to be a waterslide?
123. Lots of options and a nice slide
124. Reminds me of the equipment at Porter Park in Champaign. Good park, but I would like to see something different at Meadowbrook.
125. I like the natural look
126. Looks fun
127. Meh.
128. Na
129. Love the theme and the height
130. looks like other playgrounds around town.
131. Lots of pieces to play with and the highest pieces are enclosed.
132. It is hard to tell from the picture. I would like to see more learning/ sensory activities.
133. too much plastic
134. Would people actually use the gears?
135. I like that there are some more natural looking features and that there are many levels.
136. Looks great for big kids, but I would worry about little ones on it.
137. I like the rock feature. The structure looks natural. Concern about length of slide in case there are issues with someone getting stuck or someone hiding in the slide. Like the different levels and play features.
its good i like the long slide
That it has really good stuff
super fun
oh i like this one more, and i think i want this one!
oh i like this one more, and i think i want this one!
oh i like this one more, and i think i want this one!
I love the outside look of wood and rocks.
Reminiscent of the current structure, which is good!
Visually appealing, incorporates natural looking elements.
very cool
I generally don't like totally enclosed slides, but the rest of this looks safe but climable.
several different parts to it for climbing
Lots of climbing options
fits into the landscape better, variety of activities
Not woody/natural like what is already at meadowbrook
Nice visual appeal that would partially blend into the environment. Sufficient options so that multiple children can play at the same time.
Looks exciting
Looks more adventurous
I like the natural elements
It looks like your basic playground. I like it.
Nice colors and natural elements
I enjoy the natural and environmental look
Na
Variety of levels available
Looks super fun and cool
worried about accessibility
Kids would love it, doesn't feel totally safe
It reminds me of a pool structure.
I don't like the tube slide - prefer open air
I like the rocks, the multiple levels of play.
A bit better than the owl - too much plastic.
I like the rocks.
Seems fine
Lots to do
Adventurous
Like the rock and wood. Less keen on the plastic moving toy activities that will be the first thing to break.
This looks like kids can be imaginative and it has a lot of different areas to play.
Variety of structures very modernized love it

Not a fan of the bright colors but like that it still has stone and wood

I think this let’s small and bigger kids play

Geared to older children only.

Like the climbing feature, but looks like a great place to fall down from!

Not terribly special

cool

I really like the climbing rock and the overall look

Good variety of things to play

I like multi-leveled climbing equipment. It is good for many ages, and younger children can explore different difficulty levels as they age. I like different things to “do” on the same piece.

Tool little perspective to decide.

I like the wood aspect but the green is too bright

Looks more interesting then A

Slide

I like the rock wall

Nice aesthetics!

Good variety of things

I like the natural elements and the slide

Kinda unsafe design kids fall and skinned body parts.

I like that it is a little different from the other big playgrounds that have been installed in town recently, but it isn’t unique enough.

I like it but kids would climb the rock & could get hurt

Not so colorful. Many parks have similar play structure. Not very creative

Really cool

I’d like to see something more unique for such a special space.

It’s a good structure for older children, but Meadowbrook would need another option for toddlers.

I like that it’s tall. I wish it weren’t so plastic though.

Looks like it may have many spots where you may not see your child unless you are up close.

Looks more interactive and fun

Has several options for play, natural features, high slide and a platform for “base” or “clubhouse” play etc

Adventure! Lots of semi private play spaces.

Love this one

Boring

I like the natural features and that it’s fairly open ended. The more ways to climb it, the better.

Like the colors and safety mat under equipment

I feel like this gives a nature vibe and more realistic for kids.

I like that it has climbing, and seems to have hanging opportunities as well.

Looks similar to other playgrounds in the area

Incorporated natural rock

Looks like fun, lots to do

Looks challenging and fun

Very inviting, fun

I like that it is natural looking.

Large structure with lots of play options

Looks like a modern version of old playground

A lot more interactive parts

Not great for toddlers

Looks cool but may be dangerous for younger ones

The slide looks awesome and it’s a pretty cool watch tower to play pretend in

Cute & fun

Lots of things to climb for kids

Lots of exploring possibilities

It has natural look to it

I like the natural look

I like the rocks, but wish it felt more magical

Looks safe. Nice natural feel.

It looks fun but also standard and like other parks in the area

Looks great for older kids

Natural and playhouse like, very cute!

Very plain

Typical

Looks nice but it looks like any other playground around.

good contrast of materials, playset vibe, feels like a fun toy

we have several play structures that look similar already in CU

Tall with fun climbing areas and neutral nature inspired colors

The rocks & stump make it look more natural. I like that it looks like a tree house.

I like the natural elements such as rocks and wood. It seems like a very functional playground where kids can do several things. I’d love if it is made of colorful elements and light color wood

Broad, open, lots of places. Connected but distinct. Many different ways to play, all at once. Nature themed at least.

It's mostly natural materials, but not sure how much kids can do with it.

Little more interactive. Love the climbing structures!

Love natural colors

Very engaging

I like the height of the tower and the rocks

<td>I really like this equipment because it is large enough to accommodate many children at the same time. Structures that allow lots of creative and active play are best, and this one appears to offer climbing and other movement play. It also appeals to structured and unstructured game-playing, like hide-and-seek or other spontaneous play, that kids love at the current Meadowbrook structure. It also can accommodate different ages and abilities because it is spatially expansive.</td>

Too tall - not 100% clear in the picture but it doesn't look like you have an unobstructed view of the kids on the 3rd floor from the ground.  12/6/2021 8:56 AM

Hard to find your child in there if you're checking where they are or it's time to go.  12/6/2021 8:14 AM

I enjoy the large slide, but it would make things tight with children walking through  12/6/2021 8:02 AM

Doesn't look safe  12/6/2021 8:01 AM

Good idea would need some adjustments like alternative access points, less formal looking  12/6/2021 7:41 AM

Ehhh  12/6/2021 6:26 AM

accessibility is minus. extravagance is moreso.  12/6/2021 2:48 AM

Hard to see your kid  12/5/2021 10:46 PM

I like the idea of it to keep kids from falling but it will be hard to get a child to leave or if they are injured, easily without having to go through the whole structure.  12/5/2021 10:19 PM

Too tall, parents can't hold child's hand for balance  12/5/2021 10:06 PM

Nice that it looks like there are a lot of places to run around.  12/5/2021 10:02 PM

Lots to do and see - more toned-down colors would be great  12/5/2021 9:16 PM

look fun but kind of tall (safety concerns)  12/5/2021 9:10 PM

Looks like Mcdonalds play place  12/5/2021 9:00 PM

Many levels and difficulties  12/5/2021 8:04 PM

Not accessible  12/5/2021 7:43 PM

No! Too much of a traditional playground. I don't like the rubber/foam footing either.  12/5/2021 7:11 PM

I don't think this design fits with the overall feel of Meadowbrook. It also looks like kids would quickly become bored with this. The beauty of Prairie Play was the vast different play areas gave children a new experience each time they visited. I do think it is time to replace Prairie Play with something new and just as exciting!  12/5/2021 6:24 PM

Again modern and functional  12/5/2021 5:50 PM

Way too plastic  12/5/2021 5:49 PM

I like b the best but this would be my second choice for the same reason  12/5/2021 5:35 PM

Looks like it would work for more of an age range than the others so far.  12/5/2021 5:12 PM

Like the multi slide feature. It is colorful, but a bit too tall.  12/5/2021 4:32 PM

Not terribly special  12/5/2021 4:11 PM

coool  12/5/2021 3:49 PM

Looks gigantic with lots of places to run and chase and explore  12/5/2021 3:46 PM

Looks really cool, but hard to tell how accessible it is, which matters  12/5/2021 3:42 PM

This looks okay, but there may be too much emphasis on the slides ... instead of things to do at the top and in the middle. Is there a pole to slide down? It might not be interesting to a child for long.  12/5/2021 3:33 PM

Has everything  12/5/2021 3:24 PM

It's just like every other playground  12/5/2021 2:22 PM

Like the slides  12/5/2021 1:59 PM

I want that playground too. The whole thing with the slide slides slide  12/5/2021 1:42 PM

A lot of kids could play on this without feeling too crowded  12/5/2021 1:25 PM

Fun, not super nice looking.  12/5/2021 1:22 PM

<td>Multiple layers = multiple view points. This also allows them to interact with an audience (parents at the bench or friends running on the ground). You've now allowed them to explore and interact, while still giving them individuality in that creativity. This playground is ideal for capture the flag, hide n seek, tag, etc. Where as the precious examples were severely limited by comparison. I do not enjoy this playground because it would be difficult to see my children while they are playing.

Three-story maze house? Yes please!

It’s kinda cool. I imagine I would have a fun time with something like this.

The big, mazelike vibe matches with what Meadowbrook had before the remodel. Love it.

I appreciate the multiple avenues of play, especially if it could cater to more than one age group. It could be difficult to keep track of one’s kid.

I love the classic look of this one.

Lots of options.

Looks very overwhelming and lacking for kids with disabilities.

So much thrill.

Lots to do. May be a little high for some kids.

Looks difficult for adults to get thru quickly to get to children.

Lots of levels and opportunity for play!

Big lots of slides.

Little kids won’t fall from the higher parts.

N.

Looks pretty amazing.

I like there is a lot to do but what if a kid gets scared at the top would an adult be able to get in there to help.

Kind of generic and too big. Won’t lead to small playgroup interactions. Harder for moms to monitor.

This looks too tall and closed in, and I dislike how none of it is natural materials.

I like it because it looks similar to the Meadowbrook we know and love now.

Basic but fun.

I like the multi-levels and the variety of slides.

Wish it had a more natural look.

Very safe.

Ok.

Nothing special, very similar to other play structures.

I love the size of this but I worry that the blockiness is not going to work well for a lot of families.

That looks fun. I like the vertical levels.

Looks a little ugly.

If you made this into a wooden design it would be perfect!

Appears safe.

Fun.

This looks like a modular children’s prison and does not match the atmosphere of Meadow Brook at all.

Looks like something kids would love, and a lot of people can use all at once.

I like that kids can hide.

Meadowbrook Playground Survey 2- Inspiration Images

245  Meh
246  I do not like this because it seems small. Meadow room needs space for the children to run freely.
247  It's tall. That's cool!
248  It's tall. That's all it's going for it.
249  seems too much like hessle park. meadowbrook needs to remain different
250  It looks like a typical "steel structure plunked on the ground" ie, oblivious to its environment. But it appears to have multiple entrances and exits, allowing for different routes. Nice.
251  This one seems way too small
252  tall slides
253  Meh
254  Super tall, love it
255  Na
256  I like how everyone is easily to see
257  It's adequate, but common.
258  Not a lot of things to do
259  N
260  We have played on one a lot like this. My kids really liked it.
261  I could see my kids playing there
262  Great mix of activities. Easier for people to see where their kids are and what they're doing.
263  I like the unique design, but not like the lack of natural materials
264  There is a structure like this in Winter Park in Danville. The slide is overkill, and for whatever reason very small kids are attracted to it!
265  It looks like every other playground in the area.
266  Community has some similar
267  Design is nice but pretty basic features.
268  Looks a little boring
269  Not much space to get up to the slides
270  Kinda city
271  nothing special, very similar to other play structures
272  It's very modern and it looks like hessel
273  Not too interesting looking.
274  Cute! Very new and modern
275  too slim, seems like there's no room for a lot of kids to play.
276  Vertically oriented
277  Too much like other playgrounds in the area
278  There is too much use of plastic in this design and it does not look reminiscent of nature.
279  looks like typical playground
280  Not much to do here
281  highest point too tall; don't like tube slides

Covered slide is good, but exposed slide will be useless in hot or wet weather.

Doesn’t look very interactive.

Looks fun but maybe too tall

Fine, but like a lot of playgrounds that already exist in CU

Too normal

Has basics

This looks pretty standard and basic.

Eh. Attractive, but seems limited in terms of activity.

My kids would love the rush.

I like the design but not sure if functionality

It still looks designed for kids 6+, which would leave parents of small children actively chasing or waiting to catch their small kids near any large opening

Small. Boring

Like, but hard to feel like it would be an organic fit for MBK. The slide would be a huge hit. If this piece is chosen, my children would be happy.

Interesting looking but looks a bit too artificial/manufactured

I like how tall this is. Height is important and exciting!

It’s a little tight at the top - kids may fall down more often trying to congregate at the top. I really like the look though!

Too “busy” No enclosed slide.

too much plastic/generic playground feel

Very inviting. Parents can visualize kids.

This one looks more inviting, at least for older children. But I prefer the look of wood to metal.

This is a nice piece, but we have many similar structures in our area.

Allows parents to see the children at most times, but looks safe. Also, sun-protection is good to keep surfaces cooler.

A very utilitarian structure. Probably good for play, but lacks any connection to nature or the park where it is. The recycled rubber play surface - while safe - is sterile and uninviting.

Looks like lots of play possibilities but would need to not be the only part. The Meadowbrook renovation needs to be equivalent to existing structures and this is like 1/4 of that

Safety hazard for younger kids. Too much metal and plastic yuk

More typical playground looking but less creative. My kids would still be excited to play on it and the slides look big and fun

I like the variety of slides and the wall

For a metal/plastic playset this is not bad, but I always preferred less conventional structures with wood

Not very original and doesn't allow imaginative play. It is what it is.

It needs to have more natural elements.

It's tall and long slides.

Looks industrial

This looks like a great park for any other location, but it's not special enough for Meadowbrook.

69. The natural colors are better.
70. Love that this is so different.
71. It doesn't really have much.
72. That metal slide would be hot in the summer.
73. Would the slides get too hot?
74. Don't like it.
75. Would the metal slide get super hot?
76. Metal slides and the sun at Meadowbrook don't mix well.
77. More unique. Has different features. The slide looks like fun for many different ages.
78. Slides will get super hot in sun.
79. Ugly design.
80. Metal slides are the absolute worst. Also, the enclosed structure makes it hard to see my kids.
81. This looks really neat.
82. I understand the concept of it but I don't feel it gives children as much to work with as the previous playgrounds.
83. Metal slide?? No.
84. Love this look of this one! The slide looks fun.
85. Too futuristic. It won't fit the neighborhood.
86. Interesting.
87. No metal slides.
88. This is awesome! It reminds me of the show Adventure Time. I think kids would love being on something like this.
89. I like the treehouse look, but NOT the shiny slide color!
90. Unique look would like to see the kids as they climb.
91. I like the feel and style of this. We also have a strong preference for a metal slide as our daughter with a Cochlear Implant cannot leave them on when using nylon slides and climbing tubes but can on metal slides (Larson park has a lovely metal slide).
92. This one is appealing, but I'm not a fan of entirely closed slides.
93. My favorite. I really like the tall, metal slide going into a sand play area. I also want to see a wider, metal slide for groups of kids to go down like at Woodland Discovery Playground in Memphis.
94. It looks like fake material, and it looks messy. There don't seem to be as many things to do on this structure. Just climb and slide. Kids might have to take turns.
95. It's ok.
96. Doesn't seem sturdy, if the slide is metal it will get hot.
97. New and exciting.
98. Not sure about the metal and wood look - seems like it is trying to be two things.
99. Love the materials here, especially the sand surface rather than the rubber like in the others. Maybe needs more climbing opportunities?
100. Really interesting! and also looks really expensive?
101. I love that it's metal and wood, mixed media- very unique and interesting and still open.
102 I love the modern design and neutral colors, will blend in with trees. 12/8/2021 8:07 PM
103 looks interesting but not very inviting. 12/8/2021 4:19 PM
104 It's ok 12/8/2021 4:18 PM
105 I like all about it but when it's hot outside the slide won't be the best 12/8/2021 4:14 PM
106 I love everything 12/8/2021 4:11 PM
107 It looks like a tree 12/8/2021 4:09 PM
108 I don't like metal slides they suck especially when it's hot and when your wearing shorts and try to go down it 12/8/2021 4:09 PM

112 WOAH THIS LOOK COOL AS HECK 12/8/2021 4:06 PM
113 Metal will burn u 12/8/2021 4:05 PM
114 I would like to go to this playground because it looks like a tree 12/8/2021 4:03 PM
115 It’s unique and I’ve never seen it 12/8/2021 4:02 PM
116 Slide 12/8/2021 4:01 PM
117 Sodh 12/8/2021 3:55 PM
118 None of it makes sense. Boring while also confusing 12/8/2021 2:01 AM
119 I like the wood but not the massive silver slide 12/7/2021 11:16 PM
120 Very neat design and colors. Towers and levels good. Metal color on the slide looks great 12/7/2021 6:34 PM
121 Metal slide? Burns? Or just the paint color 12/7/2021 5:23 PM
122 Seems like a good fit for Meadowbrook. 12/7/2021 4:59 PM
123 Love that it is different. Would the silver get too hot in the summer? 12/7/2021 3:47 PM
124 I like the way this looks, but maybe change out the aluminum slide. I can only imagine how hot that thing would get. 12/7/2021 12:35 PM
125 Na 12/7/2021 12:29 PM
126 Scary 12/7/2021 12:01 PM
127 looks cool, but functionally not that different than other playgrounds 12/7/2021 11:56 AM
128 Love the layers and texture. 12/7/2021 9:12 AM
129 It would go with the statues in the park but not enough inclusion and variety. 12/7/2021 2:02 AM
130 sure 12/6/2021 10:01 PM
131 Not sure there's much to do on this one, but at least it has a metal slide. The hottest summer-day metal slide is still superior to the static on a plastic slide. 12/6/2021 7:53 PM
132 I like that it's made out of wood and looks more organic and like it has a lot of passageways. The metal slide would probably get too hot 12/6/2021 7:14 PM
133 Like the design. Different and mixed for the outdoor area of the park. It is tall, but combined with other toddler appropriate toys would work 12/6/2021 7:03 PM
134 Colorful and artistic. Seems more artistic than functional. Concern about slide getting too hot in the summer plus enclosed so difficult to access someone in an emergency. I do like how it ties both the wooded park and statue park together, to a degree. 12/6/2021 7:03 PM
135 mismatching the environment 12/6/2021 6:42 PM
136 Metal gets really hot.

137 it looks cool because i like the metal slide

138 It has a big slide

139 fun

140 i like this one, but less than park C

141 i like this one, but less than park C

142 i like this one, but less than park C

143 Would the metal slide get too hot. Otherwise, this is a very cool playground.

144 This is real? It looks like a tornado assembled a playground.

145 I like everything except the metal slide

146 size and will this slide get too hot

147 Looks like a head-bumping-metal experience to me.

148 Not big enough

149 *

150 metal slides get hot

151 Metal would be way too hot, unusable in warm and possibly cold seasons.

152 Very busy visually with only limited interaction with the visual items which seems unhelpful. Multiple activities so more than one child can play at once.

153 Looks nice but i see that slide getting hot

154 Colorful

155 It looks unconventional in a good way

156 It combines my most and least favorite design elements: the wooden almost fairytale like structure with a super high enclosed slide.

157 Looks harsh, not inviting

158 I love the natural materials and the open idea of allowing imagination for children

159 No metal slides

160 How to keep the slide from burning

161 No. Looks like it's made of trash

162 I like the construction style. but the product is kind of a one shot wonder.

163 Metal slide doesn't fit but otherwise cute

164 I think it's cute

165 I like the natural look of this one. Though is that metal slide going to get unusably hot in the summer?

166 Best so far

167 dont love the metal

168 Fun!

169 Basic

170 Unique

171 I give it points for creativity. It could work if you want the playground to look like the art in the rest of the park but it might encourage kids to climb on said art thinking its also playground Amazing! Nothing like this in our area. Unique, colorful, catches the eye and invites you to play.

Again, unique and natural-looking

The slide looks like it would get really hot in the summer and doesn’t seem to have much else to do on that playground

Love it all except for the pure metal slide THOSE GET SO HOT IN THE SUMMER

Too much metal

I like the aesthetic. Hard to know how much there is to do.

Looks very interesting but that metal would get hot

This is gorgeous but is it just a slide?

Tube would get too hot

Eh metal slides get super hot. Structure looks boring

I like that it’s nature-oriented. Lots of climbing option, cool slide. Could be fun to explore inside.

Don’t love the aesthetic

I like it but it’s does not look like it will stay nice long

Interasante!

Metal slides are awful as run risk of burns.

Tree playground!

It’s neat. Cool tree design and slide.

doesn’t match meadowbrook as much as I’d like, but then it matches the sculptures around the walking path

More fitting of the artistic bent of meadowbrook. A different look is appreciated.

I’m concerned the metal of the slide would get hot and burn kids. It’s a NO from me

unique

Horrible slide material, gets way too hot in summer

metal can be hot

Looks cool but not a fan of metal slides

Metal slides are hot

I like the uniqueness, but NOT the metal slide. (They get too hot in summer and burn little legs!)

Only 1 slide

N

I like all of them, but this is my favorite followed closely by C. Great design!

Looks simple.

Don’t like the big steel slide. Hot? Not easy to monitors kids.

LOVE the unique slide and slatted tower! The colors are also awesome.

Just not really my cup of tea.

Love the design esthetic so fun and different

Neat aesthetic

342. Metal slide, NO. Design is fun and whimsical, love that

343. It is memorable and unique but not an aesthetic I personally enjoy. Although the slide is very cool

344. I like the tree look and the colors and pieces.

345. This is a bit more unique as a style, but the ways to interact with the structure are not very clear

346. I like the uniqueness of this one.

347. I love how artistic this playground is. It's hard to tell what kind of play is available within the tree house though. I think it would be too small.

348. Not easy on the eyes

349. I love the mix of the natural elements with the very modern stainless.

350. I like that it looks like a tree in an artistic way. More natural. Seems a little small for the space, would there be multiple tree-like structures? That would be cool

351. Metal slides are too hot. This structure offers low visibility. Looks intimidating.

352. Hard to monitor

353. Scale, whimsy, and sculpture.

354. My 10-year-old really likes the metal slide on this one. He thinks it looks "cool"

355. I like the use of wood and the green and yellow pieces. Keeps a bit of the fortress feel that makes PrairiePlay so iconic.

356. Multiple things for kids of all age groups.

357. Looks cool!

358. It is visually appealing, but I don’t think the kids would enjoy it as much because the climbing and play area appears small. Don't waste money on the extra visual appeal. Children just want to run, climb, slide, and play.

359. Doesn’t look very interactive.

360. Don't like the metal slide. Burns your skin when the sun is hot

361. Nice, but I like some others better

362. Awesome aesthetic

363. That is so cool!

364. Different

365. I like the whimsical unique look, but I can’t tell what features it has.

366. I like the design, I think it’s got imagination, with the one caveat that metal slides are a nightmare in the summer,

367. Slide would be too hot

368. This goes w the surroundings of park

369. This option looks safe for small children - I worry that a metal slide would become a burn hazard on hot sunny days.

370. Looks cool but the metal slide looks hot.

371. Very cool and unique. A good fit for MBK, but the metal slide, in the sun equals hazards.

372. This looks cool, but that metal slide will get hot!

373. I love how artistic this one is. Feels European and I like that!

374. I really like how this one looks! Fun and abstract. It is limited with just one slide, though, and

<td>I feel that this needs to be seen in person since it's so different. In general I don't like the covered slides. It's difficult for adults to monitor young children &amp; can be scary for young children to use. A slide can be very fun &amp; exciting without the enclosure. It's not clear to me what the main &quot;hut&quot; is. Is it just an open space or are there things to do inside? It seems to take up a lot of space without clear play options. Maybe I can't see clearly in the photo.</td>

This play structure looks like it fits in Meadowbrook. I like that it has a lot of ramps for children who have ambulatory difficulties. Accessibility is key to making this successful for all.

Many nice features
Like the wood aspect
I like how it's open and can see and most kids can play
I like the natural look of it.
Looks like a playground fixture that a variety of ages and ability levels could enjoy. Nice climbing feature, but not too high. It looks like it would fit in the area - not so gawdy.
It's fine
not that cool
Overall appearance is spot on. Doesn't seem to have quite as many features as some others
Solid, standard park.
I like the uneven walkways and different climbing methods (steps, ladder, ramps). Good high and lower and low parts, and room underneath to play, too.
Multiplatform
I like the wooden like material and how there are many structures or towers
Reminds me of a tree house
I really only want to go to a playground with an extra twisty slide
It's cute
Good variety nice and big
The castle style is great, it would be really nice to keep that at meadowbrook
Great design seems safe
Pretty good, but it looks like it is trying to be safari styled, which doesn't fit meadowbrook to me.
I love this one. The enclosed portion is awesome for parents bc we don't have to worry about the kids falling
Neutral. Similar play structure around the area
Decent
I like the natural colors on this one.
I like the playground, it has opportunities for all ages and also has more protection from falls
I like it but it seems a little small compared to the current structure
This one also brings the Treehouse Feel and has plenty of open areas where you can see your children.
I really like this one but would like to see maybe two of these connected
Good combo of things to do, maybe add a few more rock climbing options
Just doesn't look very special to me
Looks woodsy but wouldn't require a lot work
I think they should keep the wooden playground. It's the best.
Don't care for the sand
Looks fun and simple
Not much climbing (except up stairs) and not much hanging, unless there's stuff I don't see.

<td>Interesting inspiration. Making something wood-like is not what appeals people to Meadowbrook. They come to meadowbrook from across town or other cities because it is one of the last places where adults and kids can explore. They feel creative and want to peek around corners. <td>We already have many playgrounds like this in CU. There is no other space to leave additional comments so I will leave them there (all surveys would benefit from having a final &quot;share any other thoughts&quot; section...). We love Meadowbrook park because it does not look like any other playground in the community, it has natural material (wood), and it is like a labyrinth. I have not found any example of that in the example presented. If you are looking for existing examples, I</td>
